

Department of International Affairs

Under the responsibility of the secretary-general, the Department of International Affairs is involved with international development of pedagogy and UPJV research.

Along with the university faculties and institutes it organises university exchanges for the students and the teachers in Europe and all over the world. As part of the international programmes, the university welcomes students from several countries. It helps set up new links with universities overseas.

Aims :

To inform

To collect and distribute to teacher-researchers the information necessary to develop their international roles.

To register the international projects and to ensure communication between various partners.

To inform the university students on the possibilities of study periods abroad.

To set up exchanges and specific programmes

To find funding for student and teachers' travelling costs

To coordinate and organise programmes : running the university's international programmes
